SKINNING FLESHING TANNING

The Sportsman's Guide to Trophy Care

By Research Mannikins Art of Taxidermy
With Mark McLain (7 Mins)
Tired of receiving capes from your clients that are too short because they are improperly skinned? This video will show your customers where to make proper cuts on the carcass to remove the cape from the deer. This informative video is intended for the hunter to learn how to successfully remove the cape from the carcass so when he brings it to your shop, it will be ready for a professional to take the skin from the head. Make a profit by selling to your customers or give them away as a special bonus!

Field Dressing & Trophy Care (Antelope)

By Taxidermy Training Unlimited
With Ray Hatfield (½ Hr)
Sometimes hunted in very warm temperatures, the Pronghorn Antelope is known to spoil rapidly. Though this DVD features a Pronghorn, the procedures shown can easily be applied to just about any horned or antlered species. Includes a short hunt segment at the start of the video, before Ray gets into the detailed procedure on how to properly care for your big game in the field, and then continues with the complete skinning and capeing for the taxidermy process, also done in the field.
